EUROPE NEEDS AMERICAN AID, M'VEY DECLARES IN LAWRENCEBURG SPEECH

International Situation Discussed By University Head Before Men's Club

HAS PRAISE FOR LEAGUE

Participation in World Federation Will Clear European Muddle, Claim.

"The United States will ultimately be forced to participate in European affairs" was the prediction made by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, in an address to the Men's Club Tuesday night at the Christian Church in this City.

Expressing the belief that America will be forced into the European situation as the result of economic developments, the University of Kentucky head said, "I am wondering if we have not lost valuable time in waiting this long. We were compelled to take up the burden in 1917 when a grave military situation forced our participation in the World War. We will again have to take up the burden in a some what different way to aid in the preventing of the economic collapse of Europe."

"If the United States had taken part in the League of Nations and become a signatory power following the Versailles treaty our presence would have influenced the situation for better," the speaker said in response to a question as to America's entry into the League would have aided in the solving the European problem.

After the meeting had been called to order by Dr. J. L. Toll, following dinner, President McVey was introduced by the Rev. T. H. Bowman. (Continued on Page Four)

FRED B. SMITH OPENS LECTURE SERIES TUES.

Students Have Opportunity of Hearing Eminent Speaker of International Fame.

Chapel exercises for the Freshman Class of the University of Kentucky were conducted by President Frank L. McVey Tuesday morning. After a short scripture reading and the Lord's Prayer, Mr. Downing sang a solo in a very pleasing manner. Mr. Fred B. Smith of New York City, was introduced, who addressed the students on "What is, Where is and Who is the Strong Man?"

The praises of Fred B. Smith, companion of men and platform wizard, have been heralded by practically every college paper in America, yet after his first appearance at the University of Kentucky at chapel Monday morning, the students agreed with one accord that "the half had not been told." "Personality-magnetic and powerful" is required to hold the unbroken attention of 800 students who are tired, hungry, and restless but this Mr. Smith did with perfect ease.

It is not by highly dramatic narrative, by funny stories, nor yet by brilliant word-play or clever characterization that Mr. Smith makes his deep appeal to the human heart but by plain-spoken truths and by the presentation of the problems of real life—life as every student knows it. He does not antagonize by attacks upon modern social customs nor by hackneyed condemnations of the degrading vices of the age but giving the University students credit for being thoughtful and sensible men and women, he speaks from a vast and varied store of personal experience.

Mr. Smith spoke in chapel Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning, and Monday and Tuesday evening to mixed audiences; on Tuesday evening to men only and on Wednesday afternoon at Patterson Hall to women only. The attendance was good at every meeting.

Mr. Smith is assistant to the president of a large factory in New York and is not an evangelist as many people seem to think. He has made several tours of the world and has spoken to audiences of very sort. The last tour, from which he has only recently returned, was made under the auspices of the Federal Council of the Churches of America. He is now on a lecture campaign of all the state universities of the United States under the direction of the Y. M. C. A.

If only more speakers had Mr. Smith's knowledge of the relation of modern American life to Christianity and dealt with it as frankly and honestly as he does there would not be so much unbelief and so much criticism of religion among college students. All who did not hear him speak have missed a wonderful opportunity and those who did hear him will never forget his charming personality nor the wonderful message that he left behind.

TRACK SQUAD TO START SEASON AT INDOOR MEET AT CINCINNATI MARCH 3

Coach Buchheit Has Not Posted Thost to Make Trip to Queen City

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Squad Hard Hit by Loss of Four Star Performers of Last Season

The Wildcat track squad will open its 1923 season with its participation in the indoor meet at the Cincinnati Armory March 3, competing against some of the best amateurs in the country. Coach Buchheit has not definitely decided as to the exact personnel of the squad that he will take to the Queen City but it is thought that about eight men will accompany the Cat mentor to the meet.

The scantily clad athletes are out in the gym going through their paces and getting in condition for the event. The squad was rather hard hit by the loss of Clare, Snyder, Wilhelm, and Boyd, who besides making up the rely team, contributed a goodly number of points in every meet the Cats entered last year. Several youngsters have been showing up well in practice and indications point towards another well balanced team representing Kentucky on the cinder-path and on the field.

Captain Red Davidson, weight and discuss reliance is improving daily and should garner a few points at the Cincy meet. Bob Porter and Brown are working for the mile and two mile and will give all other contenders a hard fight for first honors. Porter finished not far behind Joie Ray at the Louisville indoor meet last year, and is out this year to better his time in the distance events. Gorman, star of the cross-country sextet, is slated for the half and mile, and possibly the quarter. According to all pre-season dope, the Lexington youth has a very promising future in store for him and should make quite a record his first year on the Blue and White track team. Nantz and Mays are the leading dash men, while Dew-

VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM PLAY LAST GAME AT HOME

Fest, Burnham, Smith Make Last Local Appearance in Blue and White

The Wildcat Basketball squad will make its last local appearance Friday night when the Cats meet the Tigers from Sewanee. The scrap will be the last showing of Captain Fest, Burnham and Smith on the local court in a Kentucky uniform and the trio are determined to make it a memorable event. Fest and Burnham are practically certain to star the scrap while Smith is slated to get a chance before the tilt is over.

The Cats made a very disappointing showing against Georgetown Monday night and it is possible that Coach Buchheit will resort to his reserves in order to win the last game. The Tigers are not very strong in basketball, their being their first adventure into the court game. But the Cats will have to display a greatly improved attack to defeat them.

To accomplish this end, Coach Buchheit has worked the Cats hard every afternoon this week and hopes to have them in shape for the Sewanee tilt.

NOTICE!

All members of the once well known Union Literary Society meet in the "Y" room, second floor of the Gym building, Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

LAW JOURNAL PRINTS MEMORIAL TO LAFFERTY

January Edition of Publication of Law College Praises Former Dean

The January edition of the Kentucky Law Journal, a publication of the Law Department of the University, is worthy of special notice. This edition is a memorial to the late Dean W. T. Lafferty through whose unselfish and untiring work the Law Department was brought to its present high standard. Not only does the publication comment upon and give praise to Dean Lafferty, but it also portrays the excellent work accomplished under his supervision.

The Law Department was established in 1908 and graduated its first class of 23 in 1910. The total number of graduates from that time to the present has been 213. Of this number 80 per cent have made their homes and practiced their profession in their native state. Many of these are commonwealth's attorneys, county and city attorneys. The fact that so many of these young lawyers have remained in Kentucky shows that the state is an excellent field for this work.

In the Legislature of 1922, the University was represented by twelve graduates. Five of these were from the Law Department. They were: Joseph F. Bosworth, Emory Frazier, Harry Miller, James Park and Berl Boyd. Boyd's distinction is novel as he represented his county and was at the same time a senior in the Law Department. Graduates of recent years are being persuaded to announce for the Legislature and other responsible offices throughout the state in the election of the coming fall.

IMPRESSIVE VICTORY IS SCORED BY KITTENETTES OVER LOUISVILLE GIRLS

Kentucky Co-ed Floor Stars Show Best Form of the Season

TOO MUCH BLANDING

Star Forward Scores 14 of the 18 Points Made by Kentucky

The University of Kentucky co-ed basketballers scored their most impressive victory of the season when they defeated the University of Louisville girls in the Kentucky gym Friday night by the score of 18-6. The Kittenettes displayed the best form that they have shown this season and had little trouble in completely outclassing the fighting Cardinals in the last two quarters.

The playing of Miss Blanding, Kentucky forward, was the feature of the game. Miss Blanding accounted for 14 of the 18 points scored by Kentucky. Miss Harrison was a power at back guard, while Miss Ligon ran the floor effectively. For the Louisville five, Miss Borgman and Miss Moeller were best. These two lasses caused the Kentucky guards quite a bit of trouble with their fast passing.

Louisville got off to a one point lead at the start of the game when Miss Moeller scored a free throw but Miss Blanding soon put the Kittenettes ahead by a field goal from the side lines after ringing two free throws. This gave Kentucky a lead that was never diminished by the Cardinals.

Starting the second half with the score 9-4 in favor of Kentucky, both teams battled hard but the skill of the Kittenettes told when they ran up their score to 16 while the Cardinals made but one free throw. The final period found both teams worn and the scoring was slight although the play was still fast.

Kentucky owes her victory to the shooting of Miss Blanding and the guarding of the Kittenette guards. Louisville was unable to pass through

FIRST MATINEE PLAY TO BE PRESENTED THURSDAY

The play centers around a sympathetic Irish-woman who tolerates the brutality of her shiftless husband because of his ability to tell fairy stories to their crippled boy. The end presents an interesting psychology.

Miss Ruth Tucker is in charge of the direction. Her cast is as follows: Mrs. Pat ..... Katherine Bailey '24 Jimmy ..... Marion Parsons '25 Mr. Pat ..... J. R. Snider '24 Miss Carroll ..... Judith Youngblut '25 Policeman ..... George Woolf '25 Tea will be served by members of the class immediately following the production.

A magic formula, a slogan, an advertising campaign complete as to detail. Any of these or another proposed by a member of the Alumni Association may win the capital prize.

One hundred dollars for the best plan for GETTING THE RIGHT RESULTS for the Alma Mater is the offer. This plan is sought particularly for its bearing on the 1924 Legislature. If it measures up to the conception of those making the proposal its benefits will be permanent.

The contest will close in May. Additional details will be made known later.

SPREAD KNOWLEDGE

Alumni Call for Speakers in Greater Kentucky Campaign

Many things are new about the University. Alumni everywhere should seek to hear about the Alma Mater's progress from the President, members of the faculty, the student speakers' bureau and officers of the Alumni Association.

Programs of local alumni clubs especially in Kentucky are being arranged so others than the members may hear the principal addresses. This is one of the most helpful factors in the "Greater Kentucky" campaign.

The calls for speakers made on the University in the last few weeks is due largely to alumni efforts. Such contacts with the citizens-at-large by University officials help the institution to render a greater service to the State and make possible a better understanding and a more ready sympathy on the part of the average citizen.

BARKLEY MAKES PLEDGE

"I want the University of Kentucky to be to this State what the universities of Virginia, Michigan and Wisconsin are to their commonwealths," declared Congressman Alben W. Barkley, of Paducah, an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for Governor, at the opening address of his campaign in Danville Monday evening.

Mr. Barkley would provide adequate financial support for the University and complete facilities for the entire public educational system. While in Lexington he visited Warren Middleton, Paducah student who was shot on the campus several days ago.

February 17, 1923.

Secretary,
University of Kentucky,
Lexington, Kentucky.

Dear Sir:—

It has been brought to my attention that the University of Kentucky is interested in possible means of enlarging or adapting her stadium for the better accommodation of present day requirements.

A member of my staff, who has been working on this subject for the past three years, has discovered and perfected, for the construction of stadia, a novel and efficient design based upon the attempt to meet requirements of modern games.

Up to now, all amphitheatres and stadia have been laid out in accordance with principles of the ancient Greek and Roman structures designed for combats and chariot races. Modern games are dissimilar to these ancient sports in many vital particulars, and it can be imagined that the meeting of modern conditions would result in an interesting type of structure. The experiments have produced a successful, practicable and aesthetic design.

During the past twenty-five years and more I have devoted myself to the design and supervision of the construction of racetracks, grandstands, baseball grounds, college stadia and athletic fields throughout this country and Canada. It would give me pleasure to be of service to you in this connection.

I am, Sir,

Very truly yours,
Charles Wellford Leavitt.

WOMEN ORGANIZE

Alumnae Continue Intellectual Contacts After Graduation

The American Association of University Women unites educational interest of college women of 130 colleges and universities throughout the United States in such a manner that they may meet socially to form new and further old friendships, to discuss all phases of education, art, music, law, home economics, social service, medicine, public health, journalism—in fact all the branches of knowledge which are classified in a college catalog. They study their home communities to see in what way educated women may be of service in adding culture and comfort to the communities in which they live. They offer scholarships to tempt talent and genius, they administer loan funds to ambitious but not wealthy young people, they offer fellowships for foreign study that students may know students and colleges in other lands, and they give teas and luncheons and dinners and plays and musicales and lectures. It now has some 200 branches located in every state except four in the United States. Besides the many thousands of members these branches represent it has hundreds of general members who are isolated from other college women but who wish to keep themselves allied with educational progress.

The A. A. U. W. two years ago in conjunction with college women of England and Canada organized the International Federation of University Women which now comprises national organizations of college women of seventeen countries organized for acquiring friendship for and better understanding of other countries, their problems, and their people. Club houses are being established as rapidly as possible in the various capitals of the world. Already the A. A. U. W. has one in the capital city, Washington. Negotiations are under way for one in London; Paris has one at 4 rue de Chevreuse; and Brussels has its headquarters at Maison des Etudiants. The fee is $2 a year for general membership sent to the Executive Secretary, 1634 I Street, Washington, D. C.

S. Good; Prof. J. J. Hooper; Prof. Geo. Roberts, and Prof. L. J. Horlacher. In addition to these I saw a fine bunch of old Kentucky fellows who are in allied lines; Hub Gale '14, came over to look up the crowd; he is farming on a large plantation about 30 miles from Memphis, address Big Creek Plantation, Turrell, Ark.

"Ran into Wm. C. Mitchell '16 on the street in Memphis. He has left the U. S. Farm Economics Department and as I understood, is managing a place not very far from Gayle's location.

"Last but not least, who should be working around Memphis, selling industrial service, but one of our former legal lights, H. C. (Monk) Morrison '14. Say boy, there are almost as many U. K. men in Tennessee as in Kentucky. Did you realize that Governor Peay, newly installed at Nashville, is a native Kentuckian, although I do not think a U. K. man? Another decade and they will have to change the name of this state. Send us some more of the same."—Morris L. McCracken '16, General Agricultural Department, Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., Paris, Tenn.

"Enclosed is our check for $23.56 in payment of commission on stationery ordered through the University of Kentucky stationery department for January. At a meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Lafayette Hotel, February 13, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved: That the Kiwanis Club of Lexington unqualifiedly endorses the Student Speakers Bureau and their campaign in behalf of the University of Kentucky."

It was a university program. The quartette rendered several selections and the meeting was addressed by Robert Lee Porter, of the Student Speakers Bureau. Professors Wellington Patrick and W. S. Webb took an active part in the discussion that followed.

For the last ten years she has taught in the Louisville Girls' High School. In connection with her work there she has studied for several summers at the University of Chicago. Prof. H. B. ## Sportsmanship

There is nothing in the world which leaves a more definite impression of the character of a college than the type of its sportsmanship. A college of good sportsmanship and not a college of good sports is the one which will really succeed. The Golden Rule should be practiced in all athletics. Always treat visitors as you would like to be treated. Remember, what you do will honor or dishonor your University.

"JAZZ"

(Theme written by Henry Taylor for editorial class in Journalism)

Claiming that an agency for evil and a force that will eventually undermine all morality exists in what we term "Jazz," modern day reformers have cursed and discussed, held up for ridicule and torn down with austerity attempted to suppress and pronounced the obituary of the little jazz demon in no uncertain terms. The causes, existence and effects of the term have been abandoned or condemned on soap-box and in pulpit, before rich and poor—probably no other patois has received the advertisement that has been accorded to four little letters, meaning nothing at first, but covering a multitude of sins at present—"Jazz."

While jazz has been depreciated by some, its opponents have overlooked the human side of the question, even as its supporters decline to recognize its shady side. Certain it is that jazz embraces both good and bad, and only the hour glass can live to see its effect and pass final judgment on its merits.

The largest division of the jazz army is music, and of this aggregation, Field Marshal Saxophone is commander-in-chief. Many persons continue to carry out the military idea by pronouncing the commander a "general nuisance" and recommending "corporal punishment" for those enlisted in the ranks.

Musicians of the old school stand aghast when the hated word is mentioned. They shudder in horror when the orchestra begins its evening calistioned. They shudder in horror when flee into darkness when the performers become warmed up and converse with each other by note.

But the same sounds that chill the hearts of old-time musicians have an entirely different effect on those in whose veins the blood of youth races wildly. The pulse is quickened, the body aways in accord with the strains of music, and feet that have been weary and heavy all day suddenly become alert and for the next few hours show no sign of fatigue.

For jazz is the music of youth—the titles, discords and rapidly reflect the spirit of youth, and the twentieth century is very youthful. Not only are the titles of jazz selections a symbol of youth, but they reflect the lack of age of the composers. A man of mature years, intelligent, serious could never conceive or give birth to such names as "Livery Stable Blues," "I Got My Habits On," "Hot Lips," "Got to Cool My Doggies Now," "Cow Bells," "I Like It," "Teddy Bear Blues," "Ooogie Waw Waw," "Bow Wow," "I Wonder Where My Sweet Daddy's Gone," et cetera ad infinitum, including the whole jazz family of blue Mama's, lovin' Daddy's and sickening Baby's.

When jazz made its debut on the shaky boards before the limelight of life, it was heralded as a passing fancy—a fad that would decline and die a natural death. Many years have passed since that time, but Jazz has grown into a bouncing adult, and displays no signs of deterioration. Regardless of what it stands for, JAZZ IS HERE TO STAY. No Jazz song survives the fickle and frivolous crowds for more than a month, and before it reaches the outskirts of its native haunts, another song, even jazzier, has taken its place, and only the phonograph records record the earlier creation. Jazz is similar to the pleasant profession of moonshining. As fast as one still is destroyed, another reckless, misguided victim arises to the occasion and collects all the copper—and lye in his neighborhood.

Primitive man had his dances—and he provided wild orgies of feasting and drunkenness to accompany them. But primitive as he was, his dances abounded with rhythmic motion and graceful movements instead of short jerks, elusive steps and side-show contortions. Dancing in itself is natural—and good. A child has an innate tendency to dance and this desire is not lost when age claims its own. But dancing shorn of the beautiful and robed with the undesirable is dangerous and pernicious.

Jazz in its most abuse dform is reflected in the latter sense, and in this sense is obnoxious and worthy of destructive criticism, for it in itself is destructive. But when jazz has a connotation of innocent joy and pleasure it is permissible—even desirable in its worst form, it is truly "a monster of so frightful a mien; as to be hated, needs but to be seen. Yet—seen too oft, with increasing grace, we first endure—then pity—then embrace."

But to judge jazz by this perverted meaning is not fair—spinisters and classical musicians to the contrary—for the good suffers unjustly by comparison with the bad. Jazz HAS a better side—a side not seen by the reformers, but a side to be cultivated and supervised, while on the other hand, its evils, while exaggerated by those who judge only in the light of yester-year, DO exist and are worthy of concerted action if they are to be suppressed.

HELLO DAY

The Kernel heartily endorses a movement inaugurated by the Su-Ky Circle known as Hello Day which is expected to become an annual event. The purpose of such a day was to remind persons upon the campus that they should speak to every person whom they meet even tho they had never been formally introduced. The success of such a movement cannot be measured by the results obtained in one day alone when every person was "tagged" to remind him to speak to other persons for even then there were many persons who did not enter into the spirit of the day because they held to the conventional custom of formal introduction.

It is hoped that such a movement will bring to the minds of many persons the idea that they have perhaps passed many persons by upon the campus whom they unintentionally ignored reserving the idea that they "didn't know 'em," but that the same persons whom they ignored might some day become a valuable and life long friend.

The conventional crust has been "formally" broken and persons may now speak to each other without the least hesitancy or embarrassment. Let's make every day a Hello Day.

EUROPE NEEDS AMERICAN

Dr. McVey announced as his subject "Some Comments on the European Situation" and epitomizing the conditions as they obtain in Europe today, he said "We find Europe a sullen defiant Germany, France determined upon saving her honor and averting strikes and unemployment and an Irish situation that is yet turbulent, Russia fighting hunger and enduring the pang of the aftermath of a great social revolution, Italy wondering and discouraged as to the outcome, debts overwhelming and the currency system demoralized."

The problem of Europe is a problem of reparations. The nations of Europe cannot pay the United States unless Germany pays her reparations. Obligations between nations, international payments, can be made only in products. Germany can not pay unless she can produce and she cannot produce profitably unless she has international trade. To build up a profitable international trade she must sell in the markets of the world under as free trade conditions as possible.

"When you set up a tariff you erect an obstacle in the way of international trade. The tariffs in operation by many of the nations are standing in the way of international commerce. The situation is further complicated by a currency depreciation which has brought high prices followed by high cost of production. As a result capital is being consumed."

Discussing the recent action of France in seizing the Ruhr basin, the speaker said, "France is bankrupt unless she can collect reparations from Germany. If you owed the bank $50,000 and a certain person owed you $50,000, your payment of the debt at the bank would be contingent upon your ability to collect from the person indebted to you. That is the situation in which France finds herself."

"As the result of the destruction of French mines which were flooded by German armies, leaving them filled with water, France's annual production of twenty million tons of coal has been wiped out."

"France at first had in mind the military occupation of the Ruhr region to maintain an economic advantage. She modified it to an economic occupation as the result of pressure brought to bear by other nations. She is now, however, moving toward a military occupation which she deems an economic expedient."

"I think," said Dr. McVey, "France had in mind to take over the Ruhr basin permanently to place within her control the rich iron area of the region and reduce Germany to a state of economic vassalage. It has been interesting to note the change of opinion in the United States on the matter of French occupancy. At first the press was inclined to feel that France had overplayed her hand. Recently there has been a sympathetic change resulting in a more kindly attitude toward France."

"Germany is on the toboggan. Pessimism and dissatisfaction is great. Everybody is trying to get rid of their marks. The currency chaos in Germany has never been equaled and the government is powerless to untangle it. The people are trying to get their capital out of the country and are succeeding in a large measure."

In discussing the effect of European conditions upon the prosperity of the United States, Dr. McVey said the price of wheat is not determined in Chicago, it is fixed in Liverpool and is based upon the marginal supply of wheat Europe can buy.

"As long as Europe is unable to buy American cotton, wheat and other agricultural products there will be a slow return to prosperity. Europe's indebtedness to the United States can be paid only by our taking their products."

In speaking of the settlement of England's debt to the United States, which, according to present indications will be taken care of by 62-year-bonds bearing possibly three and a half percent interest, President McVey said, "England can pay those bonds only by going into the world for foreign trade," and predicted excessively keen competition which might reach the proportions of a commercial war as a consequence.—Anderson News.

WILDCAT QUINTET LOSE GAMES TO CLEMSON AND GEORGETOWN FIVES

Kentucky Varsity Cagesters Unable to Keep Up With Fast Pace of Visitors

WORST DEFEAT OF YEAR

Georgetown Takes One-sided Game From Varsity in Last Period.

The Clemson College five handed the Wildcat quintet a 30-13 trimming in the University gym Thursday, February 15. The first period was very close but the visitors scored point after point in the second half and drew away to win by a 17 point margin. Day and Colbert were the outstanding stars for Clemson while Carl Reifkin with 10 points to his credit, was best for Kentucky.

The Cats fought desperately in the first 20 minutes, holding the Clemson five within reach, but were unable to keep up with the fast pace set by the visitors and dropped back in the second half.

The score:
Kentucky 13      Clemson 30
Barnes .....F.....Day 14
Reifkin 10 .....F.....Bryan
Fest 1 .....C.....Garrison 2
Rice .....G.....Colbert 8
Burnham 2 .....G.....Mills 6
Referee, Head, of Louisville.

The Wildcats suffered their worst defeat of the year last Monday evening when the fast Georgetown quintet defeated them by the one-sided count of 45-21. Like the Clemson clash the first period was close, the Tigers holding a three point margin over the Cats at the end of the first half; but again the Cat defense crumbled and the Orange and Black made a walk-away out of the scrap.

The work of "Dutch" Burnham at back guard, and Karl Rohs, who replaced Freddie Fest at center, was the only saving grace of the Cats' game. The entire Tiger five worked together with machinelike precision and accuracy and had little trouble in pulling away from the Cats in the second period. Long, Daniels and Jacoby were the leading scorers for Georgetown, while Kemper and Pollock played excellent games at guards. The Tigers displayed a fast passing attack the Cats were unable to stop, and this attack coupled with an ability to score from all angles, made the Georgetown aggregation the victors.

The score:
Kentucky 21      Georgetown 45
Reifkin 8 .....F.....Long 16
Wilkinson 2 .....F.....Daniels 12
Fest 4 .....C.....Jacoby 12
Rice 2 .....G.....Richardson
Burnham .....G.....Kemper
Substitutions: Kentucky—Barnes

for Wilkinson, Foust 1 for Reifkin, Blanton for Foust, Smith for Barnes, Rohs 4 for Fest, Spillman for Rice, Boren for Burnham. Georgetown—Pollock 5 for Richardson.

Fouls: Reifkin 4 out of 7; Foust 1 out of 1; Fest none out of 1; Daniels none out of 1; Pollock 5 out of 8.

PRESIDENT M'VEY TALKS TO WOMEN STUDENTS ON THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES

College Women Will Have Great Opportunities Under New Order.

EDUCATION NECESSARY

World Expects Women to Help in Life of Our Nation

Dr. Frank L. McVey in an address to women students of the University in chapel, Monday at 2:30, impressed upon them the responsibilities which they as voting citizens will have to bear in the future. He stressed the fact that this new opportunity and responsibility will logically fall principally on the college women of the country.

The importance of women in state and elsewhere has increased rapidly since the industrial revolution. Just recently a new idealism has come in, said Dr. McVey, and we are reaching out for this idealism in all phases of life. Previously women had many restrictions but today they have a freedom which they have never had before.

Dr. McVey stated that less than one-half a century ago women did not have college educations but that today we realize that if women are to be citizens they must be educated. Woman can meet the new opportunities and responsibilities which are placed in her hands only thru education.

Since the family stands as the foundation of the state today and the woman is the center of the family she has always given an element of idealism through this medium.

As woman moves into national life she may make a great contribution or be a great hindrance, said Dr. McVey. She can give her high ideals about health and her high standards of morals and give a new freshness and spiritual strength to the state. The world expects from woman the things which she has gotten from life.

Dr. McVey concluded his talk by saying, "What is woman going to do with the opportunity for citizenship which has been given her? Will she contribute with idealism, sympathy, vision and intellectual power or will she merely add to the number of voters?"

JUNIORS ADMINISTER DEFEAT TO SENIORS

"High and Mighty" Bow to Third Year Men in Class Basketball.

In the second round of the inter-class basketball tournament played Thursday afternoon, February 15, at the University gymnasium, the Junior team won their second game by defeating the Senior five 7 to 4. In the other game the Sophomore quintet defeated the Freshmen team 22 to 6.

The Junior-Senior game was a hard fought battle from start to finish. The passing of both teams was exceedingly good, especially that of the Juniors. The Seniors did not weaken for a minute but kept the game full of pep at all times and gave the Juniors their hardest battle so far. As in the first game Riley was high point man; he made 4 of the 7 points. Bayless and Powell both played a very good game for the winners. Asher made all the points for the Seniors, he made one field goal and two fouls. He and Fuller were best for the losers.

In the second game of the afternoon the Sophomores experienced little difficulty in defeating the Freshmen. Although not being able to find the basket in the first half they came back in the second half and made 20 points. Due to the excellent guarding of the Sophomore guards the Freshmen had to make all their points from long shots. Swearingner was high point man of the game with 12 points. McMahon and Tewels both played good as forwards. Creech and Walker played best for the losers. Creech made 4 of the Freshmen's 6 points.

The summary of the games:

Miss Harrison and Miss Ligon and although they often worked the ball into Kentucky territory, the Kittenette guards always ruined the attack before the Cardinals got under the basket. Miss Blanding could not be held by the Louisville guards although Coach Reinhart changed her several times. If it were not for the defeat handed them in the first meeting with Louisville Coach Chandler's charges would have a strong claim to the state title, but that defeat throws the strongest claim to the Transylvania girls.

Afternoon Tea for New Chapter

Mrs. Wilson Case Lawwill and her sister, Miss Daisy Hume, entertained Saturday, with a beautiful afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Lawwill, on West Third street, in honor of the new chapter of Delta Delta Delta fraternity of the university, who have just been granted a charter by the national Delta Delta Delta. The house was decorated in the fraternity colors, silver, gold and blue, with freesias, sweet peas and pansies, the fraternity flower. The new chapter has seven pledges, who were thus given a charming welcome by the Delta Delta Delta chapter of Transylvania College established a number of years ago. Mrs. Bullett McCoun presided at the tea table and delicious dishes were served. There were about forty members present, a number of alumnae from out of town. The guest were recent pledges of Delta Delta Delta: Gene Ward, Elizabeth Littleston, Christine Gearhart, Magdeline Rogers,

Genevieve Kelley, Kitty Conroy, Elizabeth Mormon.

Active chapter: Pauline Park, Edna Gordon, Helen Rolston, Alice Cherry. They were assisted by Beta Zeta chapter of Transylvania and members of Delta Delta Delta Alliance.

KY. MAT MEN LOSE TO OHIO IN HARD STRUGGLE

Western Conference Grapplers Prove Too Much For Enlow's Men

The University of Kentucky Wrestling team was defeated by Ohio State grapplers by the score of 23 to 3 Saturday. The team won a single bout in the 115 pound class, when Graham got the decision over Cryder, of Ohio, in a match that went overtime.

Members of the Ohio State team—Crabb, Christopher, Martter—won their matches by falls, while Glaser, and Strudder won their points each by getting decisions.

Graham proved himself much superior than Cryder of Ohio, when he rightfully received the time decision of one minute and eleven seconds.

Captain Stith fought hard, and in the heart of the match had the advantage over Christopher, of Ohio, but when he was thrown against the ropes the referee placed him on the defense. This gave the advantage to the Ohio State man.

Stanley held Glaser for eleven minutes, then Glaser rushed Stanley to the ropes, and then to the mat, and as there was very little time left, the advantage went to Glaser.

In the following match, Captain Martter of Ohio, who has had the middle weight championship of the Western Conference for two years, won the bout by a fall with Brewer of Kentucky. Brewer put up a game fight, holding Martter for nine out of twelve minutes. This was Brewer's initial appearance on the Kentucky team.

The team was greatly disappointed in Robinson the light heavy.

No man was entered in the heavy weight class. This forfeited five points to Ohio State. The Kentuckians wrestled before a crowd of 5,500 people in the coliseum.

KITTENS DEFEAT UNION COLLEGE TUESDAY 24-16

Underwood Star of Powerful Kitten Attack; Opponents Team of Fighters

Kentucky's Kittens came through with another victory Tuesday night when they defeated the strong Union College team of Barbourville, 24-16 in a closely contested battle.

Union College presented a well balanced team and a team of fighters but they could not pass the Kentucky guards and were forced to rely on long shots. Kentucky passed the ball under the goal before attempting a shot and made all their counters on short shots.

Lovel Underwood was the individual star of the game, scoring 10 points in addition to playing a nice floor game. In the last half Underwood broke loose and scored all of his points and had the Barbourville boys in despair. Jimmy McFarland played his usual strong game running the floor but he did not get his usual number of baskets.

Barbourville had no individual stars, all of their men who started playing well and making the same number of points with the exception of Dushman, back guard.

SOPHOMORES DOWNED BY SENIORS IN HARD TRY

Juniors Easily Defeat Freshies in Third Round of Class Series

In the third round of the inter-class basketball tournament played Monday afternoon, February 19, at the University Gymnasium, the Senior team defeated the Sophomores 14 to 9. In the second game of the afternoon the Juniors won their third straight game when they defeated the Freshmen by an overwhelming score of 22 to 10.

The first game of the afternoon was a hard fought fight with the Seniors holding the lead from the start. The Sophomores put up a hard fight all through the fray but seemed to lack the pep that they had shown in the preceding games. The first half ended 6 to 4 in favor of the Seniors and the Sophomores were never able to overtake them. Langford and Fuller played best for the winners each making six points. Swearingin made 7 of the Sophomores' 9 points. The Sophomores showed great sportsmanship when they allowed Watts to continue playing after he had made four personal fouls.

The second game was an easy victory for the Juniors. They outplayed the Freshmen in every way. The Freshmen showed a great improvement in the second half when they made 10 points. The first half ended 10 to 0 in favor of the Juniors. The long shots of Walker, Captain of the Freshmen quintet, was the feature of the game. Wentzell also played a good game. McDowell and Bayless played best for the winners. McDowell made 12 points.

The summary of the games:
 Seniors 14 Sophomores 9

GROWTH OF UNIVERSITY SHOWN IN REQUEST TO BE MADE 1924 ASSEMBLY

In Ten Years Student Body Has Increased 250 Per Cent; Floor Space 3 Per Cent.

ENROLLMENT NEARLY 1800

Student Speakers Stress Needs To Business Mens' Clubs, Commerce Boards.

The unusual growth of the University of Kentucky is reflected in the requests to be made of the 1924 general assembly. In the last ten years the student body has increased 250 per cent and the floor space of the University 3 per cent. The resident enrollment today is slightly below the 1,800 mark. The total for the year, short courses and the summer session, will be near 4,000.

Appropriations for buildings for the bi-ennium will be asked in the amount of $830,000, with an additional appropriation of $100,000 annually for operations. The items follow:

Woman's Dormitory .....$200,000
 Heating Plant ..... 300,000
 Recitation Building ..... 200,000
 Agricultural Engineering Building ..... 100,000
 Engineering Shops ..... 30,000

These requests formulated by President Frank L. McVey, of the University, are to meet immediate needs and do not embrace the recommendations of a State Commission which in the spring of 1921 made a survey of the Kentucky institution and later of several neighboring state universities with a view to outlining a ten-year building program.

This commission urged the erection of buildings and the provision of equipment adequate for a student body of 3,000 or 4,000 young Kentuckians, involving the expenditure of more than six million dollars.

The only way of handling the increasing student body without additional buildings is by enlarging the classes. Rooms now in use are not large enough to accommodate classes of 40 and 50 students. To answer this need a recitation building will be requested mainly for the use of classes in the College of Arts and Sciences, which conducts a large percent of the classes of the three other colleges of the University.

A student speakers bureau composed of seven upper classmen has been organized for giving out information about the University's work and its needs. These young men have appeared before chambers of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimists clubs in several cities. They have given emphasis to the whole cause of education.

Engineering Levels Mountains

The Pack Train has become a relic of the past, along with the Prairie Schooner. Modern methods of transportation have leveled mountains, brought San Francisco nearer to New York, and widened the markets of all our great industries.

And the engineering brains and energy, that have developed transportation to the prominence it holds in the business of the world today, are no longer employed in improving means of overland travel alone. Street Railways, Elevator Systems, Inter-urban Lines and Improved Shipping Lines—these are some of the accomplishments of engineering in the development of better transportation.

Neither have the builders of such systems been concerned only in the actual hauling of people and materials. A study of the methods of handling passengers and freight at the large terminals has developed the Terminal Engineer, who has greatly improved existing methods, and has developed entirely new ones, as well.

Engineering, as it is applied to transportation, has had to concern itself with many kinds of materials and many ways of handling them under all manner of circumstances. For instance the problems surrounding the handling of iron ore, in bulk, are vastly different from those encountered in moving any one of the finished products manufactured from iron ore, that must also be transported in large quantities. But Engineering constantly meets each situation with improved transportation facilities.

Industry, as a whole, and the nations and the people of the world owe much to the engineers, associated with such large manufacturing industries as Westinghouse. They have not only brought about vast improvements, but they have done so at a constantly decreasing cost to those who derive the greatest benefit from them.
